NYM CRINKLE'S NOTION

As Set Forth in a Philosophic Contrast of Actor and Pugilist.

Poetic, Refined and "Pulpy" Frank Bangs Compared With the Unadulterated Masculinity of Sullivan.

Nym Crinkle in New York World.

I have somewhere read of a race of savages who had developed their sensibilities to such an extent that they could not tolerate the sight of blood, and one of their philosophers explained to the European missionary the horror and disgust which they felt for our rude forms of criminal execution. They had improved very much on hanging and decapitation, and when they wished to punish an offender they stripped him naked, took him out into the desert and tied him to a stake in the withering sun, after placing food and water just out of his reach. Here he was left to roast and to starve slowly, while the black, poisonous ants consumed him.

This was considered a great and refined achievement.

Modern sensibility of the magnificent kind acts on this savage line. It abolishes violence but enhances cruelty.

If we had any means of actually measuring the force and extent of cruelty as we measure subtle energies, I think it would be found that the dove-eyed coquette, who is equally compounded of sensitiveness and heartiness, inflicts more suffering than the brawny but magnanimous gladiator.

Your Tearle and your Bangs are fair representatives of a sentiment that will not look passively upon prize fights. It shudders at mashed noses and closed eyes and gaping wounds.

But it is wholly obvious to the elemental virtue there is in old-time contempt for physical suffering. One must perforce feel a sort of admiration for the victim who "comes up smiling" in spite of a smashed nose and closed eye.

For in that endurance and defiance is a quality that advancing civilization is robbing us of.

No one can read back without being amazed at the fortitude with which our progenitors "took punishment." When they believed a thing, fire could not burn it out of them. When they undertook a thing, physical pain never daunted them.

In getting rid of physical violence, which was perhaps a good thing to do, have we got rid of our capacity to endure it—which may be an unfortunate thing to do?

In refining, according to the sentimental code, to smash noses and close eyes, may we not have fallen into worse habits—of smashing reputations and closing up careers?

Even in the moral world it has come to be an accepted doctrine that the hero in our days is not the man who defends truth in armor, but the man who believes in her, in his closet, and that "wind" and "bottom" are best shown in not reading what your enemy says about you in print.

Mr. Frank Bangs, I do not believe would put any man's head in chancery and "fib" away his feathers with savage glee. He is essentially refined, sensitive, polished. His superb masculinity was never degraded to the level of physical violence. He is a living exponent of the poetry, the chivalry, the romance of that gentle and winsome thing we call the drama.

And he is gentle and winsome, himself. He is, moreover, of our day and generation. I believe he is a great actor. His Mark Antony was a decorous combination of the Furness Hercules and the Ganymede of Jove. When he delivered the oration it reminded you of a statue of granite with a music box in its throat. He came upon the stage like the herald Mercury new lit upon a heaven-kissing hill, and when he was not acting he blushed and fanned himself with a winsome grace that no bodice could withstand.

Women fell in swathes before his form. With the single exception of Walter Montgomery, whose limbs still walk in the memory of theatrical habitues, nobody that we have could "strip" to the work of Shakespeare with such cuticular and adipose advantage.

The suspicion among men that this magnificence was pulpy does not have any weight. Suppose it was! Hardness of muscle is of no special value in seeming. Mark Antony does not knock men out with his limbs, but his logic. It isn't science but sophistry that we admire in him.

And that is just the quality that will not work in Mr John L. Sullivan's plays. He has got to be all that he appears to be. Even pretense of muscle must demonstrate itself. Every assumption of manliness, courage, endurance has got to be verified by facts. No such inexorable heartless application of strict elemental justice is anywhere else applied to man. There must not be a falsehood in a single sinew. If there is a lie in his blood or a weak spot in his breast his antagonist will find it out and five or ten thousand implacable judges will recognize it in a minute.

Don't you think there is a certain basis of honesty in this work?

This is what Oscar Wilde meant when he came back from California and reported that the finest picture of manliness he had seen in America was a brawny miner with a sledge driving a spike. He went about among the saloons and clubs inspecting the magnificent fellows who lean against pillars, with their thumbs in their waistcoats, and yawned—he never again felt quite satisfied with them.

So it was with me. After I saw Sullivan polish off the Maori (by the way that word is properly pronounced Mow ry), I somewhat lost my faith in Bangs.

It seemed to me that my idol was made of ice cream and had stood too long in a warm atmosphere.

A base and sickening admiration of the frank barbarism of the past crept over me as I compared it with the stall-fed muscularity of the present. A fearful doubt grew up in my soul of the solidity of the current Mark Antonys, and an apprehension seized me that some day the hairdresser would cut one of them and he would collapse with a squeak like a rubber balloon.

"I tried to shake off this agnosticism. I said to myself, this is rank heathenism; brace up, old fellow, and keep abreast of the times! After all, this is an age of parachutes, not of pyramids. The real thing is vulgar; what we want, even in muscles, is the ideal thing. It's the pulp of appearance, not the stone of sincerity, that wins.

I turn from the Mark Antony, posing there in his role of injured innocence, to my robust friend, John L. Sullivan, who has nothing but honest muscles and square animal prowess to offer, and who comes and punches with singleness of purpose, and goes away with a consciousness of having done his whole duty, and I no longer wonder that 20,000 people crowd to look upon the coarse, simple sincerity, and lift their 20,000 voices to applaud that old-fashioned fleshy thing that is hard and wholesome and unsophisticated and terribly honest in doing what it has to do.

There is at least no doubt about his strength or his accomplishment; and after all I suppose it is a great luxury to the world to get some of the qualities or masculinity unadulterated, even if they are not the highest qualities.

HAMSHER & MOSSER, Proprietors.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

It is announced that France has consented to negotiate with China a treaty for the settlement of the Tonquin question on the basis of the treaty of 1868 with Turkey. But the treaty of 1868 as a matter of fact amounted to very little. It was met by a counter movement on the part of England which reduced France's influence of Turkey and increased that of England. In the present troubles it is the aggressive and defiant spirit of France that is giving offense to China, and indirectly to England, and, as France is not likely to abandon her attitude, the irritation will probably continue.

The Baltimore American gives this in regard to Judge Hoadly's appearance in Philadelphia for rest:

It may mean a great deal more than the mere physical breakdown of the Democratic candidate The "nervous prostration" which his physicians say is his malady is as applicable to loss of hope, loss of stomach for the fight, as loss of vitality. "Nervous prostration" does not need that he should leave the state. But the fact is, he is sick at heart. He has encountered disappointments, annoyances, expenses, ingratitudes, selfishness from his own party, until he is as sick of them as they are of him. His "nervous prostration" is in part due to the strain on his temper, and in part to the leak in his bar'l.

According to all accounts from the "Jerseys" the election in that state this fall will be very close. The Republicans are more than usually hopeful. The Democrats hold their state convention next Thursday. A hot time is expected. Ex Congressman Hill is the leading candidate on the Republican side.

A PUFF FOR WELLINGTON

Dr. A. Chenoweth Writes a Letter Praising his Adopted Home.

The following letter of interest to our people was received yesterday

WELLINGTON, KAN., Sept. 8.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN:—Your paper, like a kind old friend from the old homestead, continues its friendly visits We cannot do without it. Like a friendly messenger it comes to tell us the life history of the friends we've left behind. Old Macon has numerous representatives in Sumner county, Kansas; moreover they are all doing well, and soon become attached to their new home.

Wellington, our county seat, is a lively, vigorous place of 4,000 inhabitants. Even Decatur cannot boast of a nice 3 story marble building such as we have here Sumner county marble at that. Within a year and a half we have built a whole block of brick buildings in one line, a large 3-story brick, 60x150 feet, at one end, and a 3-story brick opera building at the other. Numerous other large brick business buildings are going up, while if you do not visit different parts of our little city every week or so you are apt to be lost on account of the numerous dwellings that are constantly rising to change the scene. About 150 dwellings have been erected here this summer. We have three nice church buildings, while our second large school building is in course of erection. One old friends, Isaiah Querry, David Good and others, have recently been out to look up new and cheap farms. The latter quality will not apply long, as the prices are rising rapidly owing to the demand occasioned by the huge immigration rolling into this garden spot of Kansas. Farmers are keeping our carpenters busy manufacturing shifts on which to gather their corn this year. As I was about to take my departure for the west, one of my old friends said to me as he was shelling his corn, "Come and take one more look at good corn, as it is the last you will see. Let him come out here if he wants to see corn Such fields I never saw not one piece of poor corn. The ears are weighing the stalks down with their huge size, and as for other productions, not a production of any kind has been even half a failure this year. Wheat and oats were immense. We don't want everybody to come here, of course, but they will come without much encouragement. The crop of doctors has been good. The quality cannot be questioned if we except two or three cases of the spurious though rank growth among the true and tried article. We do not want to boast nor be egotistical, but we cannot fail to appreciate our new home, where we have found society as good as any at the east, for we are all only eastern importations.

Our old friends, Hargis, Elliott and others, take naturally to the soil, as manifested by the rapid growth they have made since they were transplanted. It is nice to have old associates around us in our new home, and when we look around us at our numerous old friends, we can hardly realize that we are in a new country. Yours, truly,

A. CHENOWETH.

Barnum's Ungratified Ambition.

When rumbling wheels and galloping horses were throwing clouds of sawdust into the air at the circus yesterday and when people were making a deafening clamor over chariot races and such things Mr. Barnum mounted a reserved seat chair near the entrance and shouted like a boy let loose from school. The animated pieces of charcoal, wrapped in pieces of muslin, that have been over from Nubia but three days, stood in the next row back and shrieked in childish glee. They were as little children attending the great moral show for the first time. Every shining spangle, every flash of color seemed to them a world of delight. The veteran showman looked upon them in secret envy. "I wish that I were a Nubian," he said; "why, I'd give a thousand dollars to be a Nubian for two hours! Think of the new sensations that come to them as they sit here! Why, it's worth a year of life to be a Nubian!" With this involuntary expression of his one ungratified ambition the showman jammed his hat down hard and plunged into the crowd beneath. Mr. Barnum asked the interpreter what the Nubians said about the performers. His reply was that they think the exhibition wonderful, and say the performers cannot be human beings, "they must be devils," and they were firm in this belief until after the show, when they were taken into the dressing room and saw them donning their street clothes and were introduced. — Philadelphia Press.

Barnum and Jumbo will visit Decatur Friday next.

CHEAP CHARLEY.

FROM FLORIDA.

GAINESVILLE, FLA., Sept. 7, '83.

EDS. REPUBLICAN:—In my last letter I commenced a description of some of the fruits and I will continue the subject in this, first by correcting one error in my last: where you had guava it should have been guava. The most common grape raised here is the Scuppernong variety, which is a very large grape, and when ripe almost a bronze color; is very prolific in both the growth of the vine and the fruit. A vine will in three or four years, when properly trained, twine over an arbor and make almost a solid cover of vine for 25 or 30 feet each way, and does not need trimming, in fact will not bear pruning. The grapes grow in clusters more like cherries, not more than from four to six in a cluster, but very large and perfectly round, with a thick skin, but of a very delicious flavor. They are found here in almost every yard, and some cultivate them very larely, as they are excellent for wine. Other varieties of cultivated grapes do very well here, such as the Concord, Delaware, Herbemont and Black Hamburg, but they are not very extensively cultivated. There is another grape here like the white Scuppernong, only blue, and much more tart. A fruit called the Japan persimmon grows here, and it is just coming into notoriety as a fruit for shipping. It is budded on the common persimmon, of which there are thousands growing wild here. The fruit resembles, when green, an unripe tomato, about as large as a common-sized tomato. When ripe it is of a reddish hue, and is full of a jelly-like substance very delicious, and can be eaten from the skin with a knife or spoon. They bear shipping well, and the trees are in great demand. The fig also grows very luxuriantly, and is mostly propagated by cuttings. There are several varieties, and they bear two or three crops a year.

There are several varieties of fruits grown in South Florida which do not grow here. The pineapple is not grown much north of Orange and Sumpter counties, but will grow here if protected from frost, but cannot be made profitable.

Peaches do well here on high and dry soil, but still are apt to miss bearing occasionally, as they bloom so early a light frost is apt to injure them, the peento and honey peach being the most profitable for shipping, but the more common varieties, are as profitable for home use.

Cotton is coming to market quite rapidly now Last Saturday one merchant took in nearly 4,000 pounds in small lots from ten pounds up, besides what was sold at the large gin house in large lots. From now till November it will be the great market staple.

A car load of the products of this county was shipped to the Louisville Exposition, consisting of fruit, grain, minerals, etc. I saw one bunch of bananas in the lot which measured four feet from the first bunch to the end of the bud.

People here are getting ready for northern visitors, and houses and rooms are coming in great demand. By the first of October those who have gone north on summer visits will return, and the influx of northern visitors will commence.

Several large tracts of land have been surveyed into lots of ten to twenty acres, ready for sale for groves and gardens. A choice tract of 800 acres pine and hammock surrounding my little place will be put in market at once, and I hope to see before spring quite a settlement in that vicinity. I shall be much pleased if some of Macon county's folks and other Illinois visitors in Florida settle on these lands. I will cheerfully give all information I can in relation to them as for prices, situation, kind of land, &c., to anyone who may desire by addressing me with stamp enclosed. Yours, &c., I. J. H.

CALDWELL'S VICTIM.

Mary Churchill Enticed From Her Home by a Former School Teacher.

Deserted by her Paramour She is Living a Life of Shame in a Texas Town—Full Details of the Caldwell Clew—Mary Will be Brought Back—A Black Hearted Villain That Death at the Stake Would be too Good for.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning Col. Churchill received a telegram from a party in El Paso, asking permission to arrest his daughter on a charge of stealing her mother's jewelry and clothing. The man also wanted to have other parties arrested. As Col. Churchill does not feel positive that the girl with Caldwell is his daughter he would grant no such permission, as it might lead to the imprisonment of an innocent party. Besides, he says Mary has no articles of her mother's. The things she took away were hardly worth mentioning and were her own property. He does not like the idea of imprisoning his own daughter anyway, and thinks if it is she Mary is probably married to Caldwell, and in that event he would want to make further investigations before having her arrested. Said he: "I can hardly think this man is so black as to take a girl like Mary away from her parents and then not marry her. No; if he has her, I think they are married. If they are not, I suppose he never intends to return to this country. He had better never cross the Rio Grande." This dispatch was quite lengthy.

Col. Churchill was at Col. Baker's residence as early as five o'clock yesterday morning and aroused that gentleman from his bed. When he inquired if anything new had been received in the case the following telegram, which Col. Baker stated he had received some time during the night, was handed him:

EL PASO, Sept. 9.

L. C. Baker, Superintendent.

Have Col. Churchill telegraph his daughter in my care and appeal to her.

J. W. BROOKS.

The conclusion Col. Baker and Col. Churchill arrived at was that Brooks would deliver the message through Johnson. He would give it to the latter, who probably knew her exact whereabouts. Some time while Caldwell was out Johnson would probably hand the message to the girl and tell her to answer it.

The dispatch sent by Col. Churchill was as follows:

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10, '83.

Mary Churchill:

Are you with Mr. Caldwell? Telegraph at once,

SIGNING FULL NAME,

and relieve your greatly distressed mother, who fears you are not alive.

JAMES O. CHURCHILL.

Up to a late hour last night Col. Churchill had received no answer to the telegram he sent his daughter. No relpy has yet been received to Mrs. Churchill's message to Caldwell.

The newspaper correspondent in El Paso, Texas, and Chihuahua, Mexico, have no doubt whatever that the girl Caldwell has accompanying him is Mary Churchill, but her parents are not entirely satisfied, of it and will not be till they hear from Mary herself or some one who has seen her there and recognized her or on whose word they can rely. The following was received at this office last night:

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 11.—Mary Churchill with Caldwell arrived at El Paso on the Texas Pacific train on August 23. At Sierra Blanca, a station near El Paso, Caldwell desired and took refreshments when he was recognized by a former pupil who was waiter at the station. Caldwell bought some coffee and cakes and took it in the railroad car to Mary Churchill. Young, the conductor, especially recognized them. On arrival at El Paso they went straight to the Central hotel, and registered under the name of Connor and wife. The following day they took a hack, who being closely veiled, and drove across the Rio Grande to Paso del Norte. Mary Churchill was then placed in a small adobe building, and Caldwell took apartments at Dunlap's Sameengo house. Here he stayed three days, asking many questions about Chihuahua, and on the 27th of August he set out by himself for Chihuahua over pass obtained from King, passenger agent of the Mexican Central. Caldwell had with him a large lot of jewelry, cheap rubbish, which he tried to peddle in Chihuahua. On his arrival in Chihuahua he went to see Archer Preston, editor of the Chihuahua News, and asked for a St. Louis paper. The same being handed him, he cut a clipping out. He stayed all this time in Chihuahua. Mary Churchill remaining in Paso del Norte. She came several times to El Paso and made the acquaintance of a number of people. At the present moment it is almost certain that Mary is in Paso del Norte. Some individuals here pretend they know where she is and telegraphed to St. Louis asking for $1,000 for the information. This was refused. A second telegram was sent, offering the information for a lesser sum, but this was also refused.

Found.

Later, the following was received by the correspondent, sent from El Paso to Paso del Norte. It conveys definite information that the girl has been found, and that the Caldwell clew is the right one. The dispatch is as follows:

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 11, 2 A. M.—Mary Churchill was discovered by your correspondent last night at Paso del Norte, Mexico. She has been living there a few days with a Frenchman, and in the afternoon visited El Paso in company with a woman of bad reputation. She says she is ashamed to go to back to St. Louis, and does not care about so doing. She received some money from Caldwell, the man who took her away, and then left her. A woman named Mrs. A. S. Howard with a decidedly shady reputation, has been her companion. She has adopted the name of Mary Burns. The authorities of El Paso have a warrant for her arrest and will arrest her to-day on a charge of taking away clothes and jewelry belonging to her mother. This is done simply to get her into custody.

Sam Randall as a Juror.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—For the first time in many years Hon. Sam J. Randall was called yesterday to serve as juror in the Quarter sessions Court. While others stepped up to the bar and requested the judge to excuse them, the ex-speaker, when his name was called, modestly took his seat in the box. He was accorded the position of foreman of the jury, and spent the day listening to the dry details of assault and battery cases. The news of Mr. Randall being a juror was carried about the vicinity of the court house, and his friends stepped into the large room, took a glimpse of him, and then walked out Mr. Randall could have been excused on the ground of being a member of Congress and a lawyer, but he decided to serve, notwithstanding that his two weeks' service will interfere with his public service.

A Retired Politician.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 10.—W. H. English returned yesterday from his Eastern trip made on financial business, but some of the Eastern papers insisted it had a political bearing. He said yesterday that he is out of active politics and out to stay, and it has no political significance whatever. At Washington he was honored with a dinner at the Arlington with and upon the invitation of Postmaster-General Gresham, the only representative of the President's cabinet then in Washington. In New York he was given a dinner at Delmonico's by a party of prominent bankers, and was called on by Gen. Hancock and other distinguished gentlemen. He also spent a delightful afternoon on Governor's Island at the residence of Gen. McClure, who is now on Gen. Hancock's staff, and whose wife is Mr. English's cousin.

A Journalist Brutally Assaulted.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 11.—Yesterday morning Edward D. Cowan, city editor of the Leadville Herald, was brutally assaulted by Alderman Jay, of this city. Parties were discussing politics, when Jay took exceptions to the remarks of Cowan, knocked him down, and, with his revolver, kept the crowd at bay. He jumped on the face of Cowan with his heavy boots, kicked and stamped upon him until he was almost unrecognizable. He will probably die. Jay escaped to the mountains. Cowan is well-known in the West as a brilliant young writer of excellent character. Jay is a notorious bully, keeps a low dive and is absolutely devoid of character.

The World's Industrial Cotton Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The President has issued a proclamation announcing that the World's Industrial Cotton Centennial Exhibition will be opened on the first Monday in December, 1884, at New Orleans, and continue until the 31st of May, 1885. The proclamation is in accordance with an act passed at the last session, which directs that proclamation shall be issued when the President was informed that suitable provisions for buildings and other necessities for an exposition had been made. The United States representatives abroad will see that the proclamation is duly circulated

Iowa Greenbackers.

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 11.—The Democratic and Greenback committees met at Oskaloosa yesterday to agree upon a candidate for Congress. After an extended consultation, it was agreed to support Judge John Cook, who has already announced his candidacy, and both committees will issue an address to that effect. This leaves Weaver to fulfill his bargain with the Democrats on the state ticket to defeat Allison for United State Senator and take his chances to secure the election himself.

Fred Smith's Wrongs.

MARSHALL, Mo., Sept. 11.—Fred Smith, a young man of about twenty-five years of age, forged the name of his father-in-law, John H. Herring, to different checks amounting to about $500, and getting them cashed by innocent parties fled. This morning the signature was pronounced a forgery, and the officers are in quest of Smith some time. He has borne rather a rough reputation, although he comes of a good family, his father having once occupied the position of sheriff of this county.

A Policeman's Ready Revolver.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 11.—Officer Purcell Sunday night attempted to arrest several young men for making night hideous. They ran, and he and Officer Brown followed in pursuit. The boys, aged from 16 to 20, failed to stop when called upon to do so, and Purcell fired three or four shots, as he says he supposed, in the air. One of the boys, however, Joe Hemeling, was struck in the back, receiving a dangerous wound. The officer was arrested.

Ex-Mayor Lowe Dead.

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill., Sept. 11.—Ex-Mayor Alexander Kirkpatrick Lowe, one of the most wealthy, enterprising and honored merchants of this city, died at 7 o'clock yesterday morning of typhoid pneumonia, and our city is in mourning. Mr. Lowe was a native of Poyerstown, Md., was 61 years of age, and for thirty-five years had been a leading spirit in all business enterprises.

OMAHA, Sept. 11.—The seventeenth annual state fair of Nebraska opened this morning with cool weather. It is expected to be the largest and most important fair ever held here. The exhibits crowd the grounds and the number of entries is larger than on any previous year. Many are stockmen, coming over from the Des Moines fair. The speed-ring entries also beteken interesting races.

En Route for Erin.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Messrs. Moody, McGranahan and Whittle, evangelists, leave this country October 2 for Ireland, on an active missionary campaign. By the advice of Mr. Moody they will work in the south of Ireland, where, notwithstanding the preponderance of the Roman Catholic sentiment, they are assured a fair and respectful hearing by reason of being Americans.

Fireman Killed.

EFFINGHAM, Ill., Sept. 11.—A frightful accident occured here this afternoon, the victim being Edward Cochrin of Champaign, a fireman on the Illinois Central. He slipped from the running-board of his engine and was caught between the drive wheel and draw-bar, and so horribly mangled that he died three hours after.

For Political Purposes.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 11.—Adjt. Gen. King has just returned from Marshall, Tex., where he went to investigate disturbances among the colored people. Some time ago a negro colonel of militia named Gregory, claiming to have been authorized, organized a colored militia company at Marshall and other places. He charges each man joining a dollar and then so much a month for drilling them. This coming to the ears of the whites, the adjutant-general was notified, and he at once recalled Gregory's commission as colonel, and the whites at Marshall compelled him to refund the money he had illegally obtained. It appears now that some whites had a hand in the business, and preparations had been made to organize and arm, if possible, a negro company in each precinct in the county, and the organization was to extend into the adjoining counties and all over the black districts. The evil effects of this business is said to be apparent. Ignorant negroes are making threats to take the county and ride and associate with white ladies.

Unpleasant Neighbors.

AUSTIN, Sept. 11.—Gov. Ireland yesterday received a letter from the superintendent of the Missouri insane asylum, who owns a large stock ranch in Cook county, Texas, complaining that fence-cutters are destroying his property. He intimates that if the state government is powerless he will invoke the aid of the federal authorities. The state government is doing all within its power to prevent the evil complained of, but the law governing such matters makes the penalty so light that the law is a dead letter. Prominent men of means and in good standing, having a grudge against stockmen, get wild, reckless boys to cut the fence, paying them for the same and offering to pay their fines if detected. The governor, no doubt, will convene the legislature in extra session at an early day, and the fence law will be so amended as to prevent further depredations.

Will Not Resign.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Now it is given out that the President has persuaded Assistant Secretary John C. New not to resign, at least for the present, and New has started for Indiana on a long leave of absence. The situation appears to be that New will consent to be Assistant Secretary as long as he is permitted to befabsent with pay The atmosphere of the department is not congenial to his temper, and if it should be made so by the removal of Appointment Clerk Butler and one or two others, who are obnoxious to Mr. New, it is thought probable he will return to his desk. Butler's office is in the southwest corner of the building. New has spoken of Butler as "that little red-headed cuss over in the corner." The treasury family is a happy one, and the understanding is that New will not play unless Butler is taken into the woodshed and whipped.

A Narrow Escape.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11.—The engineer of a west-bound freight in crossing the Trinity river bridge night before last felt the bridge sink under his train. An examination was made and it was discovered that one of the bents or piers had gotten out of position, letting down the three stringers attached to it, leaving no support for that portion of the track immediately over it. This discovery was just made in time to save the west-bound passenger train which had a big trip, all the coaches being full. A bridge gang way was telegraphed for at Forney. The bridge was repaired and the passenger train went over it about daylight. The Texas and Pacific has been contemplating making repairs, on this bridge for some time as it is getting old and dangerous.

Man and Horses Burned.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Sept. 11.—A freight car on the Wabash railroad, when near this city yesterday evening, caught fire, burning to death two fine Normon stallions. A man in charge, whose man is supposed to be Scott Pickerell, went into the car to rescue the horses and was literally roasted alive. When taken off the car one of the horses laid across his body. The car caught fire from sparks from the engine.

Oil Warehouse Burned.

ST. JOE, Mo., Sept. 11.—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning the warehouse of the Consolidated Oil Tank Line company, was entirely destroyed by fire, together with four freight cars loaded with oil and several small frame houses in the vicinity. The warehouse contained 2,600 barrels of coal oil, all of which was consumed. The flames were visible for miles around. Loss, $30,000; insured for $25,000.

A Fugitive Captured.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 11.—Rob Perry was arrested at Baird yesterday by Deputy United States Marshall Joan S. Crozier. He is wanted at Wichita, Kas., for the murder of one Hart in the Indian territory, near Hunnewell, Kas., about a year ago.

Pointed It at Her.

PINE GROVE, Pa., Sept. 11.—Sunday evening Wm. Rump, of Cherryville, examining a revolver, pointed it at his wife to scare her. The pistol went off and the woman was fatally shot.

THE pay of Wabash freight conductors during the busy seasons averages at least $100 a month. They are paid either by the trip or by the mile. One engineer received $182 pay for the last month and the wages vary from that sum down to $100. They are paid at the rate of four cents a mile for the distance run, and something extra for over time. Firemen receive half that sum, and generally the fireman has the hardest work to perform.

ABEL & LOCKE made a neat display at the county fair, showing a large lot of household goods they constantly keep in stock at their establishment.

A Dreadful Death.

A most distressing fatal accident by fire occurred on a freight train on the Wabash road, a few miles east of Jacksonville last evening, by which Mr. Scott Pickrell, aged 23 years, a brother of Hon. J. H Pickrell, of Harristown, lost his life. Scott Pickrell, who was in Decatur last week attending the fair, started from Buffalo, Ill., yesterday afternoon with two stallions in a stock car, consigned to Mr. Holloway at Alexis, Ill., a point west of Jacksonville. One account of the fire is that a brakeman on the train saw Pickrell trying to get out of the burning car through the man hole; that he was first seen on the top of the car, waving his coat and hands for the train to stop; that he went back into the car through the man hole, and again reappeared as if he was struggling to get out. The train had about stopped at this time and the brakeman and other train men got water from the tender and extinguished the flames. It was supposed that Pickrell had escaped, but he had fallen back, and when found he was dead and badly burned, in the bottom of the car. Both stallions were also burned to death, and the car ruined. An inquest was held at Jacksonville and this forenoon the charred remains of the young man were brought to Buffalo and taken to his late home at Mechanicsburg, Ill. William S. Pickrell is the father of the deceased. As to how the car caught fire, reports differ. Young Pickrell is said to have been in the caboose until the train arrived at Alexander, when he went forward to see about the stock, smoking a cigar at the time; but it is known that he did not use the weed in any form. One report is that he gave a cigar to Conductor Murphy before leaving the caboose. It is held by some that the car must have been set on fire by sparks from the engine. Mr. J. H. Pickrell, who is at Toledo, Ohio, has been notified by telegraph of the death of his brother.

Thieves Caught.

Sheriff Foster received a telegram from Chief Flassig, at Terre Haute to-day, stating that Nicholas Redmond and Jack Nichols, who stole John Lane's mules from near Oakley recently, had been caught and were then in custody at Terre Haute. This afternoon papers were made out by Attorney Johns, and this evening Sheriff Foster will go to Springfield to procure a requisition for the two thieves, who will be brought here and lodged in the county jail and be kept there until the December term of court. Mr. Lane says he knows both the captured thieves well, and states that both have served a term in the penitentiary.

Another Swell Front Block.

Mr. John S. Campbell is thinking of putting up a swell front residence block on his lots west of St. Patrick's church, at a cost of about $25,000. The block will include six separate residences, and will be fitted up in elegant style and rented to good tenants. It would be a good investment, as the location is very suitable for such a metropolitan structure. The swell front block near St. John's church will be ready for occupancy in November next.

Rev. J. A. Young.

This is another United Brethren minister who has done noble service for the churches in this section during the past two years, and is a gentleman very popular with his people. He has had pastoral charge of the churches at Elwin, Blue Mound, Oak Ridge and also at Mosquito, and he has performed his duties faithfully and well, so satisfactorily that it is the unanimous wish of his people that he be returned. At Elwin on Sunday at the close of the service in the presence of a packed congregation Mr. Hopkins spoke on behalf of the congregation expressing their approval of Rev. Young's successful labors in a very commendatory manner.

Cooper Much Better.

Dr. W. J. Chenoweth visited Maron yesterday and found that Joseph Cooper, who was shot by Officer John Adams, was in a very hopeful condition. Mr. Cooper recovered from the shock remarkably quick, and has passed through the inflammatory stage without any bad symptoms. To-day the news came that he was much better and would certainly recover.

"Front."

The "Sparks" Company in a "Bunch of Keys" were greeted by a packed audience at the opera house, and gave an entertainment that seemed to delight everybody. It commenced with funny sayings and situations, which were kept up without flagging until the happy close of the performance. The hotel scenery was specially arranged for the production, which would wear better if some of the talk was eliminated and more music introduced. The performers are all good ones, particularly Lina Merville as Teddy, Charles Bowser as Snaggs, and Eugene Canfield as Grimes.

A Dance.

A pleasant dancing party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruehl at Forsyth last night. A fine supper was discussed. Those present were Mrs. H. C. Mowry, Alice Montgomery, Sophia Kuny, Minnie Page, Belle Heilbrun, Louise Michl, Annie Moffett, Laura, Adele and Clara Stommel, Messrs. Harry Wyl, Oscar Liter, Ben. Montgomery, Edwin Kuny, Henry and Robert Mueller, Ed. Strohm, Harry Schlaudeman and Fred. Stommel. The party returned to Decatur early this morning.

THE Presbyterian ladies have been busy all day at the opera house arranging for the novel floral display and concert to-night. The stage with the new scenery will be a veritable bower of beauty, which, coupled with the elegant costumes, songs, dialogues, recitations, etc., will make up a rare entertainment. Go to-night without fail. You will be well repaid for your time.

THE trial of the case of the City of Decatur against the three Misses Bristow, charged with disorderly conduct, was to have been disposed of in Justice Lowry's court this forenoon, but on motion of the father of the girls it was postponed until Thursday next on account of the absence of C. A. Ewing, who is at Monticello attending court.

THE ladies of the Christian church will give a sociable at the church Thursday evening, Sept. 13th. Oysters, ice cream other refreshments served. An invitation is extended to all.

A BOY named William Fudge, had his right leg broken below the knee near the Jasper street crossing of the Wabash road last evening. The accident was caused by a fall, coupled with the effort of the boy to get out of the way of an approaching switch engine.

A Generous Officer.

Captain Daniel Flassig, chief of police of Terre Haute, was the officer who brought Bill Hughes, the confessed horse-thief, to Decatur yesterday, and while here he did a generous act that won for him a warm place in the heart certainly of one man and also won the lasting friendship of those acquainted with the particulars of the case. Two weeks ago John Lane, a poor farmer living near Oakley, had a fine span of mules stolen from his place. Mr. Lane, though in indigent circumstances, scraped together $50, and placing it in the hands of Marshal Mason he offered that sum as a reward for the capture of his mules. A description of the mules was sent to Terre Haute and on Friday came a telegram from Chief Flassig to the effect that Lane's mules had been found in that city. Mr. Lane was notified and he sent a neighbor to Terre Haute to bring home the mules. They are now en route for Decatur. During his stay in Decatur yesterday Chief Flassig learned of Lane's financial situation, and when the reward money was tendered him he refused to take it, saying that Terre Haute officers did only their duty in capturing the mules and that he wished the $50 returned to Mr. Lane. This was a noble act, and is worthy of more than a passing mention.

A Parsonage Afire.

Yesterday the servant girl employed at Rev. W. H. Musgrove's residence undertook what has never yet been successfully performed—to fill the reservoir of a gasoline stove without turning off the burner. She put the fluid in a pitcher and then attempted to pour it into the holder through a funnel. A flare-up was the immediate result. The girl's clothing, which was fortunately very damp, caught fire in places, and she ran out of the kitchen and getting on the grass she smothered the flames which threatened her destruction. In the meantime the burning fluid in the kitchen was doing considerable damage, and but for the timely appearance of Rev. Musgrove, who was up-stairs at the time of the mishap, the dwelling would certainly have been destroyed. He hurried to the room, and getting a string of hose always kept handy, he soon extinguished the flames, which had charred the walls and ceiling. It was a narrow escape from a serious conflagration. The moral is plain.

A Costly Accident.

Last night an open switch on the Wabash, directly north of the Decatur Tank Line office, resulted disastrously for the company. Switch engine 143, with Geo. Houser and Frank Whitsel in charge, was going westward at a lively rate pulling a heavy train, when the locomotive and three of the forward cars went plunging over the end of the switch, bounding over the ties and shaking things up generally. The engine collided with a freight car on the north track and the top of the steam chest was knocked off. This morning Mr. Payne, of the mechanic's department, had a force of men at work on the run-off wreck, trying to get the thing straightened out. The damage is considerable in the breakage of the engine and loss of its service. Mr. Payne is anxious to learn the name of the party who turned that switch.

A Card.

I desire to inform my friends and the public generally that I am no longer a member of the Antioch Baptist Church, having withdrawn from all connection therewith. I cannot consistently remain in fellowship with a society which permits a member to knock down another member in its place of worship, and instead of punishing the one at fault endeavors to get rid of the one that was injured without cause. I do not believe that my duty as a christian man calls for me to associate in church relations with those who are not fit to be leaders—or even members—of any church. It is not necessary that I should speak of all the causes that have led me to take this step, but if any one feels enough interested to inquire of me I think I can satisfy them that I have not acted hastily.

Respectfully, MOSES JONES.

A Delayed Departure.

Charles W. Sweeney and bride, of Cisco, mention of whose circus with S. D. Keller, the irate father of the young wife, was made in these columns last evening, took the advice of State's Attorney Johns and didn't go to their home yesterday as they intended doing. They returned from the depot to the Drake House last night, where the young Benedict slept undisturbed, except perhaps by dreams of pistols flourished by the sire of his chosen partner of sorrows and joys. Mr. Sweeney is a sign painter by occupation, and at Cisco is the correspondent of the Monticello Bulletin and the Decatur Herald. He told a REPUBLICAN reporter that Mr. Keller, on two separate occasions, had given his consent to the marriage, and when the time came for tying the connubial knot, he would withdraw his promise. "Finally," Sweeney said, "I got tired of such monkey business and concluded to bring matters to a focus, and so Emma and I went off to St. Louis and were married Friday. That's all there is of it. I got as contrary as the old man, and now he had better make the best of the situation. I have a house ready furnished to go to housekeeping, and I intend to do so, no matter what the old man says." Mr. Keller returned to Cisco last evening. He is not a farmer, but the keeper of a livery stable in the town. He was armed while here yesterday, and would doubtless have shot Sweeney if he had become more completely aroused. He threatened to shoot Sweeney if he appears at Cisco, but this evening the couple will go to their home.

A Sorry-Looking Outfit.

One of the most melancholy cases of domestic misfortune pulled up in front of Armstrong's drug store this forenoon. It was a dilapidated mower's wagon, home made mostly, drawn by a pair of yearling calves. James Murray, a talkative unfortunate, claimed to be the owner of the outfit, and the father of six children that stood about in rags, guarded by four stout-looking women dressed in faded calicoes and wearing sunbonnets that had long since parted company with starch. The calves were hitched to the rickety wagon by means of ropes, and a clothes line was used to control the well-broke team. There were two dogs with the wagon, in which were stored an old shot musket, cooking utensils, a washboard and bedclothing that had seen better days. Said Mr. Murray to a reporter: "I went to Wright county, Mo., two years ago, and owned 80 acres of land. I had a little home and was doing well, but the people out there don't like new-comers and they pestered me. A man wanted to buy my place. I wouldn't sell. Last spring my house was set on fire and I was burned out, not saving anything except a span of good horses and the old wagon. I determined to leave, and later during a violent storm both my horses were killed by lightning. Then I had to find means of transportation and so I broke in this young heifer and steer, and am on my way to the home of an uncle who lives 10 miles from Chicago. I make 10 to 12 miles a day and good people help me with contributions of food, clothing and cash. I stopped on the way to work in the harvest fields some weeks. I don't think much of Missouri, and will stay away from that state." A great crowd of people viewed the outfit and commented on its sorry appearance, while a few without asking gave Mr. Murray money and plenty of good advice.

A Pair of Gold Badges.

Lieut. John W. Hartley, of the Decatur Rifles, Co. K., has received two elegant gold badges which he offers as prizes to be competed for by members of his company. The first is to be given to the best drilled man in the company, and the second to the best drilled four men. After this badge is won by the best four, the best drilled member of the successful four will be given the badge to wear. The competitive drill will commence at the armory on Monday night.

PERSONAL MENTION.

B. S. Heath, of Chicago, is in the city to-day.

Hon. John R. Eden and daughter, Miss Rose Eden, of Sullivan, were guests at the St. Nicholas to-day.

Charles Stow, the editorial writer for Barnum's great world show, visited the REPUBLICAN sanctum to day.

Winfred Fearn is a new prescription clerk at Henry Smith's drug store. It looks natural to see him back in his old place.

John A. Barnes, secretary of the Commonwealth Mutual Fire Insurance Company, left to-day for Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the Mutual Underwriters' Union now in session.

Mr. E. B. Hale, of Cleveland, Ohio, who has large landed interests in this and adjoining counties, has been in the city several days. He is accompanied by his son, and the two have been making numerous excursions to the country in various directions. Mr. H. called at the REPUBLICAN office this morning and ordered the paper sent to his address.

Mrs. J. R. Race and son Arthur and Mrs. L. L. Haworth and son Will left for Chicago this noon, where they will spend a day visiting places of interest. To-morrow Guy Parke and Robert Oglesby will arrive in Chicago and on Thursday the entire party will go to Racine, Wis., where Arthur Race and Will Haworth will enter Racine College, and Guy Parke and Robert Oglesby will resume their studies in the same excellent institution.

Bloomington Pantagraph: The report that Miss Jessie Von Elsner was married last week to a young Chicago gentleman, is disputed by Mrs. Von Elsner, her mother. To a reporter, last evening, Mrs. Von Elsner said that the report was absolutely untrue. Miss Jessie is in Chicago with her sister, Miss Emma, taking music lessons.

Cyrus Randolph and Bering Burrows will leave for Ithaca, N. Y., to-day, to re-enter Cornell University. They will be accompanied by Harry Hays, who will also attend the University. As a parting testimonial the salesmen at F. L. Hays & Co's store yesterday presented Harry with a costly gold watch. Harry has been behind the counters during the past summer, and his associates did a neat thing in presenting him with a reliable timer, so he will not be locked out of the dormitory o' nights.

CONTRAST

is the standard for measurement. "Wide" is contrasted by "narrow"; "long" by "short," and so is "great" by "small." For instance, to exemplify Contrast, Barnum shows by the side of Jumbo his Baby Elephant, by the side of his Norwegian Giant the pigmy Tom Thumb. When Barnum is not in Decatur we have an example here, wherein SMALL MEN try to walk in the footsteps of the GREAT.

Everybody will notice the contrast in favor of our

The Daily Republican.

THE New York World hints that the motive of the elder Astor in making over his entire property to his son, reserving only an annuity of $300,000, was to go into Wall street without the incumbrance of such a terrific fortune to hazard. Mr. Astor evidently thinks he knows how money is to be made, at least since reading Jay Gould's testimony.

WOMEN and girls "doing" the European resorts are seen with the Mother Hubbard cape, which they hold before them, leaning on it with both hands. These capes are often seen in London parks during the season, carried by elderly and young women, large bows of ribbon being tied near the top of the cape the same color as the dress.

FROM across the sea come rumors of the decline of colored hosiery and the supremacy of white balbriggans again. It is also told that the brides abroad are dropping the old custom of furnishing their trousseau with sets upon sets of elaborate underclothing. The rule at present prevailing limits the supply to sets of two dozen. The trimming is also less elaborate than heretofore but quite as costly, for all the lace employed must be real to meet the requirements of the present style.

THE waste of property by fire in August last reached the enormous sum of $10,100,000. Nothing like it has ever been known—the only approach to it being the loss of $8,-610,000 in August, 1881. The record of the Commercial-Bulletin shows that there were 70 losses of between $10,000 and $20,000, 31 between $20,000 and $30,000, 31 between $30,000 and $50,000, 23 between $50,000 and $75,000, 6 between $75,-000 and $100,000, 12 between $100,-000 and $200,000, and 9 where the loss was $200,000 or more.

We All Believe

That it is a long lane that has no turning; that many a shaft at random sent, finds a mark the archer little meant; that no remedy sold will cure coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and all throat and lung troubles so quickly nor permanently as Dr. Bigelow's Positive cure; that our druggist, Dr. A. J. Stoner, 14 south side new square, is very generous to give trial bottles of this remedy free of charge. 1

A Democratic Happy Family.

From the New York Evening Post.

Unless all signs are deceptive Mr. Murat Halstead's confident assertion that the Ohio Democrats have defeated themselves in advance will be verified on election day. They have done nothing but quarrel with one another and with their candidate for Governor since their convention. In Cincinnati, which is the controlling point in the election, they are hopelessly divided, and in Cleveland, another important point, a similar quarrel is well under way. Judge Hoadly has been obliged to leave the state to recover control of his nerves, which have been badly shattered by the astonishing antics of the party under his ministrations for its regeneration, and while he is not likely to withdraw from the ticket his remaining in the field is little more than a formality. If he could be elected after all that has happened, his success would be one of the most miraculous things which ever happened in politics.

The Secret

of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it—no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health—in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

I have been a great sufferer from a very weak stomach, heartburn, and dyspepsia in its worst form. Nearly everything I ate gave me distress, and I could eat but little. I have tried everything recommended, have taken the prescriptions of a dozen physicians, but got no relief until I took Brown's Iron Bitters. I feel none of the old troubles, and am a new man. I am getting much stronger, and feel first-rate. I am a railroad engineer, and now make my trips regularly. I can not say too much in praise of your wonderful medicine. D. C. MACE.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not contain whiskey or alcohol, and will not blacken the teeth, or cause headache and constipation. It will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervous debility, weakness, &c.

A GRATEFUL PATIENT.

ARCOLA, Ill., October 24, 1881.

MRS. DR. KECK—Kind Friend: I can truly say my wife is enjoying better health than for ten years. Having suffered with kidney disease nearly twenty years, being pronounced consumptive, growing worse all the time, her general health being affected, and having the worst female trouble, at times suffering pain which seemed worse than death; and for 15 years she had been doctoring with the best of physicians without seeing any relief; but I did not expect any change in so short a treatment, for I knew the disease was a chronic trouble, and she had doctored for ten years with other physicians without relief, and, to be just, I must give Mrs. Dr. Keck a fair trial. But during the eighth week the improvement was wonderful. My friends said it would not last, and the trouble would return; but I am happy to state that the improvement continues, and she feels comparatively well, although I expect it to take time to get a permanent cure, for a disease of twenty years standing cannot be cured in a month or two. I even expect there will be days when she will feel badly, but so far there has not been any return of the disease. I can say that I feel thankful to Almighty God for making Mrs. Dr. Keck the instrument in the hands of the Lord, for I do or believe my wife could have stood the misery this long, for she was so rapidly growing worse. I most heartily recommend Mrs. Dr. Keck to the afflicted, and will answer all letters of inquiry. JAMES WILSON.

A REMARKABLE CURE.

IVESDALE, Champaign Co., Ill., Oct. 22.

MRS. DR. KECK—Dear Madam: I deem it my duty to the many suffering people to make known the condition of my wife, and the great benefit derived from your treatment in so short a time. For I feel sure if she had not followed your prescriptions she would now be in her grave, having suffered everything possibleto suffer and live. She had catarrh so bad she could not taste or smell anything, and it had gone to the left lung. She coughed badly all the time, raising much heavy matter, and was not able to lie on her left side for a year. She had shaking and smothering spells. Her feet and hands were cold for two years. She also suffered much with heart trouble, was very much debilitated, so much so that she could do anything, and weighed 70 pounds. She also had liver and kidney trouble, suffering very much with pain in the back. I had her under the care of our best physicians from three counties, without any benefit. Last May, hearing of Mrs. Dr. Keck having an office in Peoria, I wrote to her, and sent for a month's treatment, although six of my friends told me that I might as well throw my money in the fire, for if she did send the medicine she would only be a thimbleful. But when it came there was a large box of it. My wife improved very fast under the first month's treatment. But when the medicine commenced to work good upon the system to remove the disease it made her feel very badly for a time; but since that passed over she has steadily improved, until now, after five months' treatment, she is another woman. And I thank God I heard of Mrs Dr. Keck. She has had no more taking of smothering spells, and does not cough or raise so much matter from her lungs, but is now able to do all her own work. Keck therefore last she did a big washing, of bed-clothes and carpets, but had to eat three big meals and take some of your medicine to help her along. She says she feels better than for five years. She now weighs 105 pounds—a gain of 35 pounds since she began your treatment. If any one wishes to hear from me they can address J. T. HARSHBARGER.

LOSS OF VOICE.

CANTON, Ill., March 13, 1882.

MRS. DR. KECK—Dear Madam: I feel it my duty to you and those who are suffering with catarrh to make known what has been done for me under your treatment. I have had catarrh all my life. When I began your treatment I could not speak aloud, and my lungs were sore, weak and painful. In one month I could talk as well as ever. I took treatment only two months, but the results were the very best, and now, more than a year afterward, I am still well and able to do all my house work.

Ever your friend, MRS. CAL S. ARMSTRONG
